Archives Calendar of Virginia state papers and other manuscripts, April 1, 1781, to December 31, 1781. Preserved in the capitol at Richmond. Arranged and edited by Wm. P. Palmer, M. D., of Virginia, under the authority of the legislature of Virginia. Prepared for publication by Sherwin McRae, under authority of the library committee. Volume 2. Richmond, James E. Goode, printer, 1881. 16957 iv p., 1 l., 729 p. 26½cm. Preface signed by Sherwin McRae.

"In eighteen hundred and seventy-two, Dr. Wm. P. Palmer was appointed by the general assembly of Virginia to prepare a calendar of the historical manuscripts in the capitol building, to be printed under the direction of the committee on the library. Dr. Palmer promptly entered on the discharge of this duty, and calendared the papers from December the 6th, 1652 (the earliest paper found in the archives), to the 31st of May, 1791, when the fund provided by the legislature for the execution of the calendar having been exhausted, the work was discontinued. That so much was accomplished is fortunate, and that the work was confided to so competent a hand is not less fortunate. In 1875 the committee on the library directed the first volume of the calendar, as arranged and edited by Dr. Palmer, to be printed under his supervision.

In eighteen hundred and eighty, the committee on the library directed the librarian to appoint some suitable person to prepare for publication other volumes of the calendared manuscript. The second volume of the calendar has been prepared for publication under this authority." Sherwin McRae. Preface. p. [iii]

"Two volumes, prepared by Col. George Wythe Munford, designated respectively as the second and third editions of the code of Virignia, were published, by authority of the general assembly, the one in the year 1860, and the other in the year 1873. These were compilations merely, not revisions. Col. Munford had no authority to revise, and the general assembly did not revise what he had done, but merely ordered the books prepared by him to be published. Therefore the Code of 1849, adopted in all its parts, as a whole, on the 16th day of August, 1849, continued to be the Code of Virginia, except in so far as it was altered by constitutions and statutes of later date." preface, p. iii.

"The first annual meeting of the Virginia state farmers' institute was held in Roanoke on August 30 and 31, 1904. The attendance was very good considering the initial nature of the movement, and those present felt sufficiently encouraged to perpetuate the idea of an annual state gathering of the leading farmers of Virginia for the purpose of discussing matters of particular interest to them. Officers were, therefore, elected and instructed to prepare a program and arrange for the second annual meeting to be held in the city of Roanoke. The need of funds to advertise and carry on the work of the institute and to publish its annual report was so apparent that the state board of agriculture was approached and asked for a grant of $500.00. Dr. J. M. McBryde, ex-officio member of the board, having $500.00 at his disposal, was authorized to turn this over to the secretary of the institute."

Railroads, Electric Lines, Canals, Steamboat Lines

The annual reports of the railroad and canal companies appeared in the annual reports of the board of public works through 1876. The first annual report of the railroad commissioner was 1877. From 1877 through 1902 the annual reports of the railroad and canal companies were printed in the annual reports of the railroad commissioner; beginning with 1903 and continuing to date, such reports are in the annual reports of the corporation commission. The annual report of a particular company will be usually found in the annual report of the board of public works, of the railroad commissioner, or the corporation commission for the corresponding year. Occasionally the annual report of a company was delayed, and was not printed until the year following the date. For certain years, some of the companies failed to submit any reports.

Reports of internal improvement companies, other than railroads, for 1858 are lacking. All reports of improvement companies for 1864 and 1865 are lacking.

John Letcher. Jan. 1, 1860—Jan. 1, 1864.

William Smith. Jan. 1, 1864—May 20, 1865.

William Smith was elected for the four year term ending Jan. 1, 1868. By an executive order of the president of May 9, 1865, it would seem that April 17 had been determined by him as the end of Governor Smith's authority. (Official records of Union and Confederate armies, Ser. 3, v. 5, p. 14). Governor Smith's letter to Gen. H. W. Halleck of May 20, 1865 closes his effort at retaining the governorship, and should be considered the end of his term. Gov. Pierpont arrived in Richmond May 26, 1865.

Francis H. Pierpont. May 20, 1865—April 4, 1868.

F. H. Pierpont was elected in May 1863, by western counties, for a four year term, beginning Jan. 1, 1864; he acted as governor for the few counties under federal control, with Alexandria as the capital. On May 26, 1865, he removed the state offices to Richmond. His term should have ended on Jan. 1, 1868 but was extended to April 4, 1868 by the general commanding the first military district.

Henry H. Wells. April 4, 1868—March 27, 1869; April 2, 1869—Sept. 21, 1869.

H. H. Wells was appointed governor April 4, 1868 by General Schofield (General order 36). On March 27, 1869, he was removed by General Stoneman. On April 2, 1869 he was reinstated by Gen. A. S. Webb, in charge of the First military district before the arrival of Gen. Canby (Special order 66). On Sept. 8, 1869, General Canby appointed Gilbert C. Walker governor to take effect Sept. 21, 1869, "vice H. H. Wells, resigned" (General order 104).

Gilbert C. Walker. Sept. 21, 1869—Jan. 1, 1874.

HENING'S STATUTES.

The following memorials are printed in full, since they throw much light upon the history of the publication of the statutes. Useful references on this subject are: House journal, Jan. 2, 1801, p. 51; House journal, Jan. 23, 1801, p. 79; House journal, 1817/18, p. 168, 169; House journal, Feb. 2, 1818, p. 168; House journal, Dec. 15, 1824, p. 40; Governor's message in house journal, 1824/25, p. 40; The letters that passed between Jefferson and Hening in the course of publication of the statutes are in the Division of Manuscripts in the Library of Congress.

In 12 Virginia reports, p. 150 et seq., Mr. Hening gives a history of his discovery of some of the manuscript laws of Virginia; In 12 Virginia reports, p. 154 et seq., is a discussion of the revisal of 1748; In 11 Virginia reports, p. 137 et seq., are some interesting observations of Judge Tucker on Purvis and manuscript additions to it.

To the Legislature of Virginia.

The Memorial of William Waller Hening respectfully represents,

That he hath for several years past, at considerable trouble and expense, been engaged in collecting materials for a publication of all the Acts of the General Assembly of Virginia, from the earliest period of our Legislature proceedings to the present day; and that with the aid of a similar collection in possession of the President of the United States, (which has been very obligingly offered to him), he is enabled to prepare for the press the most complete system of our laws, which is now extant. The utility and even the necessity of such a publication must be obvious to all; but if arguments were necessary to this conviction, they would be amply furnished by the annexed letter from Mr. Jefferson to the late chancellor of Virginia Mr. Wythe, and one addressed to your memorialist of a more recent date.

Altho' your memorialist has been often importuned to commence the publication and has received the strongest assurances of individual support, yet he is conscious that the undertaking is too expensive for him to bear, and the risk greater than it could be expected any individual should encounter. He is therefore unwilling to engage in the work without a certain assurance of indemnity against the expenses which he must necessarily incur. He is induced to believe that the legislature, considering that the state of our finances is more prosperous, at this time, than at any period since the year 1795,—that the State of Virginia, tho' once the oldest colony under the regal government of Great Britain and now the most important State in the union, is the only one without a complete collection of her laws,—that property to an immense amount depends, in many instances, on a single statute either in the possession of Mr. Jefferson or himself,—that cases of great importance are now before the Court of Appeals, on which the Judges are unwilling to decide without an examination and comparison of Manuscript acts of assembly, which, it is believed, are to be found in the possession of no other persons, and as the Manuscripts in the library of Mr. Jefferson are in such a state of decay "that the leaf can never be opened but once without falling into powder," it is very doubtful whether he will consent to a perusal of them except for the sole purpose of transcribing them for the publication;—and considering, too, that the most trivial accident, which could not be controlled, might forever put it out of the power of the legislature to obtain another collection of our laws as complete as that now offered to the public,—he repeats his belief, that his intended publication will be so far sanctioned as to give it authenticity, and that the legislature will authorize as subscription, on public account, for so many copies as will assure a completion of the work, or provide in such manner as their wisdom may direct for the attainment of the same object.—He asks no more.

Dec. 28, 1807. WM. W. HENING.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of Virginia:

The memorial of William Waller Hening, respectfully represents:

That by an act of the fifth day of February, 1808, (a) he was authorized to publish the Statutes at large of Virginia, from the first session of the Legislature, under the Colonial government, to the end of the year 1792, the period at which the then revised code terminated. The state subscribed for 150 copies at five dollars a volume, but restricted the payments to one volume a year. Under this law the publication progressed to the end of the fourth volume, when the war intervened, and the difficulty of procuring materials to carry on the work, together with the ruinous consequences of such a small impression to the publisher, necessarily produced its suspension.

When the committee, on the late Revised code, reported to the General Assembly, they so strongly recommended a continuation of the Statutes at Large, that the Legislature was induced again to take up the subject, and passed the Act of the tenth day of March 1819. (b) In order to ensure the publication, as expressed in the preamble to the Act, the Governor was authorized and required to subscribe, on behalf of the Commonwealth, on the same terms as are prescribed by the original Act, for so many additional Copies of the volumes yet to be published, as would make the whole number 800 copies; making no provision for completing the sets with the first four volumes.

After distributing to public officers, a certain number of copies, the balance are to be sold on public account. To prevent competition in the sales, and to enable the publisher to supply his subscribers, the impression was limited to 1000 copies; and the Copy-right exclusively vested in the state. Under this enlarged sbscription the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th & 9th volumes, have been published; but the state has not a single one of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd or 4th volumes, to complete the sets, either for sale, or to comply with the requisitions of her own laws, in furnishing certain enumerated counties with the work. Thus is there accumulating every year an unproductive capital to the state; which must remain so until the work shall be completed; for no person will buy a broken set of books at any price.

It would require only 650 copies of the first four volumes to complete the sets; 150 copies having been furnished under the original Act; and the whole work will be finished in four more volumes subsequent to the ninth.

Although the undersigned is under a contract with the state, to furnish the subsequent volumes, at $5 each, yet, for the benefit of the commonwealth, and to enable him to comply with his engagements, while he has life and health, he is induced to propose the following modification of the contract.

If the Legislature will complete the sets, by taking 650 Copies of the first four volumes, and authorize payment for them, as well as the volumes subsequent to the ninth, as delivered, he will reduce the price of all those hereafter delivered, to four dollars a volume. He asks nothing in advance.

These terms are believed to be as moderate as for any other law books, of the same limited impression, ever published in the United States..

W. W. HENING.

Richmond, Dec. 4th, 1822.

I will furnish 650 of each of the first four volumes, at $2.50 cts. each.

It will comprise all the matter, subsequent to the 9th volume, and prior to 1792, in three volumes, instead of four, as contemplated, and reduce the price from $5.00 to $4.00 a volume.

By a calculation, it will be found that the state will only have to pay me, for the first four volumes and those subsequent to the ninth, one hundred dollars more than for the last volumes subsequent to the ninth under the present contract.

WM. W. HENING.

Price 650 of the first four at $2.50	$ 6,500
2400 Vols. of the 10th, 11th & 12th, @ $4	$ 9,600
	$16,100
If the matter yet to be printed, subsequent to the 9th Vol. was compressed in 4 Vols. (as it well might of 600 pages each) Then the 3200, at $5.00 would cost	$16,000

STATUTES AT LARGE.

1st, 2nd, 3rd & 4th vols: published under the first subscription of	150 copies
5th, 6th, 7th, 8th & 9th, published under the second subscription of	800 copies
	650
making a surplus of 650 Copies of the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th & 9th vols. without a single one of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd & 4th to complete		5 vols.
	3250
	5	dolls.
Already, ordered stock to the state if the sets are not complete of		$16,250
And there will be 4 vols. more which will likewise, leave a surplus of	650 each
	4 vols.
	2600
	5 dolls.
	13,000	13,000
Total dead stock		$29,250

PROPOSED MODIFICATION.

650 copies of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd & 4th vols., to match with the surplus number of the subsequent volumes—2600 volumes at $3.00 each	$ 7,800
800 copies of the 10th, 11th, 12th & 13th volumes—3200 at $4.00 each	12,800
	$20,600
If the law is not altered, and the last four volumes are published at the present price, the 3200 vols. at $5.00, will cost	$16,000
	$ 4,600

So that by the proposed modification of the contract, the State, for the additional sum of $4600 will get eight volumes and have the sets complete. I give up nearly that sum, say $3200, in reducing the price of the last four volumes, which I have a legal right to receive.

REPRINTS OF THE JOURNALS BY THOMAS W. WHITE.

Thos. W. White entered into a contract, on July 21, 1827, to reprint the journal of both houses of assembly from 1777 to 1790 inclusive, as well as the journal of the convention of 1776. In preparing his contract, White did not have access to the room where the senate journals were kept. Later he found that 13 sessions of these journals were missing. He tried in vain to get these. "Another important truth . . . is that the manuscript of the journals of the house was generally transcribed in a most imperfect and incorrect manner . . ." Following is list of deficient sessions as given by White:

House, May, 1782.	Senate, Oct., 1781.
Senate, May, 1777.	" May, 1782.
" Oct., 1777.	" Oct., 1782.
" May, 1778.	" May, 1783.
" May, 1780.	" Oct., 1783.
" Oct., 1780.	" May, 1784.
" May, 1781.	" Oct., 1784.

LETTER OF F. W. GILMER RELATIVE TO THE REPORTS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

To Spencer Roane, Esq.,
President of the Court of Appeals,

SIR—I desire to submit through you to the Judges of the Court of Appeals, some ideas on the late law authorising a reporter. The matter is one of deep and general interest, and I hope my experience, though short, may be of some service in placing the office on that permanent and respectable establishment which in itself it demands, and which alone are worthy the character of the state.

The law, as it now stands, is an encouragement neither to industry nor capacity. The emolument being in proportion to the number of pages, a reporter who consults his pecuniary interest, (which is too apt to be the case with all men,) will make the volume as large as possible. This, so far from being an advantage, would be attended with great public inconvenience. Reports have already become numerous and diffuse, and cases every day multiplying upon us; if we do not begin to retrench redundancies, it will soon be impossible to extract from so many cases, spread over such a surface, the principles and law on any subject; to say nothing of the extravagance of paying the price of legal principles for loose observations. Conciseness and accuracy have therefore become the first principles of a reporter.

Having determined, (whatever may be the cost,) to make these my principal objects, I am persuaded that I have increased the labor of reporting (by my desire to reject all superfluous matter), four-fold what it would be, if I were to copy the case at large from the record, and insert all the arguments without discrimination.

This additional labor, it will be remarked, is directly against the pecuniary interest of the reporter: so he increases his industry, to diminish his profits. If the legislature could be assured that the spirit in which I have begun would continue, there could be no necessity on the score of policy to increase the remuneration. It would be a question addressed to the justice of the legislature, how far the state ought to receive and indeed to require, laborious services for a compensation wholly inadequate.

Any law regulating the compensation by the number of pages, must be a bad one; because the number of pages will be nearly in the inverse ratio of the industry, talent and fidelity of the reporter. The present law, then, offers a premium to negligence and carelessness, while it operates as a tax on every merit which a reporter can have.

It may be fairly questioned, whether the law, as it now stands, be not an absolute impediment, instead of an encouragement. The number of copies to be printed is limited to one thousand. A volume of reports is required to be published once every year. I believe that the decisions of one year will not extend to more than 250 pages. Of the 1000 copies 600 are to be delivered bound in calf to the Commonwealth, at the rate of 83-1/3 cents for every hundred pages. Binding in calf is an expensive part of a volume consisting of no more than 250 pages. Without the law, the reporter might publish the decisions biennially instead of annually; and thus save nearly one-half the expense of binding: he might too, issue as many copies as he pleased of the first edition. Upon the whole, I submit with deference, whether the law, so far as the mode of compensation is concerned, had not better be repealed, and a fixed stipend allowed; which should be regulated by the degree of labor, skill, &c., necessary to the execution of the work; to be graduated by a reference to the compensation allowed other officers for similar services.

Some idea may be formed of the difficulty of the undertaking, from the fact, that among the thousand reporters of English decisions, there are not more than three or four good ones.

The labor of attending every argument; reading every record; examining authorities referred to by counsel; besides digesting the facts and principles of each case, can be known only by one who has made the experiment.

How far any alteration of the law should look back to the commencement of my labors, is a matter which concerns no one but myself; and for that reason I forbear to touch upon it; should any new conditions be desirable to the legislature, I am sure none can be wished, with which it will not give me pleasure to comply.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, &c.

F. W. GILMER.

Richmond, 11th December, 1820.

[From Journal of the House of Delegates, 1820, p. 47]

To the Honorable, the Speaker of the House of Delegates,

SIR—Agreeably to the requisitions of an act of the last session of the General Assembly, "making provision for publishing reports of the decisions of the Court of Appeals," the judges of that court proceeded to execute the same. On the 6th day of April last, Francis W. Gilmer, Esq., was appointed the Reporter, after due notice given to the public of the time of making the said appointment. He was appointed, however, with an understanding that he would be excused from publishing a volume of reports on or before the first day of January next, as is required by the provisions of the said act. The lateness of his appointment would have rendered this impossible for the present year; and indeed, his materials in any year will probably be rendered too scanty for a volume of the size which seems contemplated by the Act, by the condensed plan on which we hoped and believed the work would be conducted, and by the care with which the court would deem it its duty to withhold from the reporter, many of its important decisions. While these last circumstances would undoubtedly add to the value of the work, they would, in the same ratio, tend to diminish the profits of the publisher. We take the liberty to refer to the enclosed letter from Mr. Gilmer, and to say that we entirely concur in the several views which he takes of the subject. They are the views which dictated our letter to the legislature of the last year. We anticipate from the plan then recommended great public benefit to our fellow citizens; and our confidence in the talents of Mr. Gilmer, for the office in question, is not inconsiderable.

We also beg leave to inform the General Assembly, that arrangements were made with Mr. Munford, to bring up his reports to the time at which Mr. Gilmer's commenced; and that a volume containing many important decisions is now in the press. It is submitted to the Legislature to decide, whether this volume should not receive the encouragement which the act prescribes in favor of those of Mr. Gilmer.

We are authorized by Judge Brooke, who is now absent, to say, that he concurs with us in the present subject.

With great respect, we have the honor to be , your most obedient servants,

SPENCER ROANE,
WM. H. CABELL,
JNO. COALTER.

The letter of Jan. 16, 1796, sent to George Wythe, enclosing the above list, is printed in Ford's Jefferson, and in the Memorial edition of his works, but the list is not printed. The list was printed not only in the senate journal of 1800/01 (the copy now in Virginia state library is the only one known to be extant), but was also issued as a separate publication, one copy of which is in the library of congress. A second copy was recently offered for sale by the Rosenbach Co., of Philadelphia.

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO ALEXANDER PURDIE, PUBLIC PRINTER.

Sir:

I have sent you an invoice of everything, that I can recollect, necessary for printing and binding the intended edition of our laws, with some other articles for myself, which, many of them, are equally wanted for the purpose. I have computed, by the prices I formerly paid for such articles in England, that the whole will amount to about £1600 or £1700. It would be best, however, to remit £2000 stg. to be sure that there is enough. If more than one invoice arrives, the sale of the one will very near defray the expense of both, and so, if all three arrive. The other two copies shall be got ready tomorrow.

I am sir,
Yours obt. serv.,

A. PURDIE.

July 4, 1777.
To George Webb, esq., treasurer.

"Mr. Starke reported, from the committee appointed to inquire into and report what will be a proper salary for the public printer, that the committee had had the same under their consideration, and had agreed upon a report, and come to a resolution thereupon, which they had directed him to report to the House; and he read the report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the clerk's table, where the same was read, and is as followeth, viz:

Resolved, as the opinion of this committee, That the public printer ought to be allowed the sum of six hundred pounds per annum, as a full consideration for printing the Journals of the General Assembly and the laws of each session, and sending as many copies thereof as there are acting justices in each county, and one other, which is to be half bound, for the use of the court, and ten to the clerks of the courts of Hustings for the city of Williamsburg and borough of Norfolk, and printing inspectors receipts and books, proclamations, and public advertisements.

The said resolution being read a second time, was, upon the question put thereupon, agreed to by the House.

Ordered, That Mr. Starke do carry the resolution to the Senate, and desire their concurrence.

Resolved, That Alexander Purdie be appointed printer to this Commonwealth, from the end of this present session of Assembly, to the end of the succeeding session of Assembly."

(Journal of the house of delegates, June 24, 1777.)

Sir,

I had determined to wait upon you, but being now laid up with a bad leg, I hope it will apologise for that necessary Duty. What I wanted to communicate to you, and which I beg you will this Day mention to the House in my Behalf, is as follows: Notwithstanding my most assiduous Endeavours to procure printing Ink, and a good Journeyman (both of which I am entirely at a Loss for) I have been unfortunately disappointed. Mr. Hazard & Col. Finnie exerted themselves, while in Philadelphia, to procure them for me.—Paper is now risen to an enormous Height. That which before I could have purchased for ten Shillings a Ream is now charged at £8 the Ream, and Gazette Paper £9 pr. Ream. This you may be satisfied of by Col. Braxton's Letter to me. Journeymen's Wages are now more than doubled; and they expect an Augmentation, Board being so high. Every Article in Life is at an enormous Price, of which every Gentleman may be easily acquainted with. When I had the publick Business conferred on me, a Cargo of Books, to the Amount of £853 Sterlg., arrived from London, which I have sold, at least, for between £3 and £4000 Currency, which is all expended in my business, without remitting one Farthing for them. And I am now indebted to the publick Store upwards of £500, for Paper chiefly expended in the publick Service, and not any Part of my Salary due to me, being constrained to take it up quarterly, to answer the Calls of my Business and House-keeping. The former Pay of a Printer was £450 £475 pr Ann. and for half binding the Laws and Journals he had £150 more. I leave every Gentleman to judge how superior that Salary was to the Salaries that have been paid for these three years past. It has been often mentioned, that a State Gazette is wanted, which would give all the News, and be entirely at the publick Service. This I am convinced is highly necessary; but as Matters stand, when the Paper sent to each Customer, before printed, costs the Printer more than the whole Year's Subscription, Advertisements must be taken in, to keep him from being entirely ruined. Paper, &c. being found to the Printer by the Country, as well for this Purpose as for Laws & Journals, would be the only Method to support a good Press, paying the Printer and his Men for their Labour. Notwithstanding Paper and other Materials, for the Revisal of the Laws, have been repeatedly wrote for, not an Article has arrived. Upon the whole, Sir, I beg you will acquaint the House with what I have related to you, being consistent with perfect Truth, that they may take the same into Consideration, and give me such assistance as they may think proper. The Treasurer would be the proper Person to purchase Paper, &c. as the Printer would be more likely to succeed in his Applications with one Man than a Number, who may not all be acquainted with his Business, or perhaps of contrary Sentiments. I beg you will excuse this Freedom from, Sir,

Your Obt. & obliged Hum. Servt.

Octr. 10th 1778. A PURDIE.

October 14th, 1778.

A state of Expenses which will attend the printing of the Journal of the House of Delegates, and the Acts of Assembly, supposing two sessions in a year.

For Paper for the above Purposes, 200 Reams, at £8 pr. Ream	£1600
Two Compositors, at £200 pr. Ann. each	400
One half of a good white Pressman's Wages	100
Two Negroes, at £50 each, for Pressmen	100
Bookbinding Expenses	100
Printers Ink, Parchment, &c., &c.	100
Paper for the different Inspections, for Tobacco Notes, Paper, &c. 50 Reams, at £8 pr. Ream	400
	£2800

The above is the present Price of Paper, but if the Assembly direct it to be imported, with a few other Articles, they may be had immensely cheaper. For instance, 250 Reams of Paper might be got for £500 and that would allow full 300 pr. ct. upon first cost. Ink, Parchment, &c., would be merely trifling.

A. PURDIE.

"The house have agreed that the accounts of Alexander Purdie, deceased, late public printer ought to be settled by a court of law, and that the attorney general be directed to prosecute the same on behalf of the commonwealth."

Appendix J.

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO HAYS & DUNLAP, PRINTERS.

And whereas a good printing press, well provided with proper materials, is indispensably necessary for the right information of the people: Be it enacted, That the Governor, with the advice of council, be authorized, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to engage with, and employ, at the public expense, and for the public service, a good and able printer, of firm and known attachment to the independence of the United States, who may be willing to bring a good and well provided press into this commonwealth.

(Hening v. 10, p. 313, May, 1780.)

A petition of John Dunlap and James Hayes, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, that in consequence of application made to them by the governor, to settle a press and undertake the public printing business in this state, they shipped a costly printing apparatus with materials of great worth, on board the Bachelor, a ship belonging to Philadelphia, in order to begin a business in this commonwealth, intending to rely wholly on the justice and liberality of the general assembly, as to the salary or wages they should receive for the same; that the said ship after her arrival in the bay, was driven on shore by stress of weather, and taken by the enemy, whereby the printing apparatus and materials aforesaid, were lost to the petitioners; and praying such relief, as may enable them again to make an effort to engage in the public printing business of this state.

Resolved, That it appears to your committee, that in consequence of power given to the executive, by an act of the last session of general assembly, the governor did, through the delegates of this commonwealth in congress, apply to John Dunlap, one of the petitioners, in Philadelphia, to bring or send to Richmond a good printing press with all proper materials, and a suitable person to conduct the same, for printing the acts and journals of both houses of assembly, and such other things as might be occasionally wanted; and also to furnish a weekly gazette, containing one full sheet of intelligence, &c.; that in reply to this application, Mr. Dunlap did, with much cheerfulness agree to comply with the proposal, and determined to submit all future compensation to the justice and liberality of the general assembly; that the petitioners did accordingly embark on board an armed ship for Virginia, a complete printing press, with materials, paper, and all requisites, to execute the business aforesaid in a proper manner; that by a concurrence of unfortunate accidents, not in the power of the petitioners to prevent, the ship with the printing press and other materials aforesaid, was captured by the enemy when they last invaded this state.

Resolved, therefore, That in consideration of the premises, and of the great public utility that will result from a free and good printing press in this commonwealth, the petitioners John Dunlap and James Hayes, ought to be compensated by the public for the loss of their printing press and materials, so captured by the enemy as aforesaid; that they may thereby be enabled to prosecute and effect their undertaking in this business, as speedily as possible, by replacing their lost press; and that the governor, with advice of council, be authorized to adjust and settle with the petitioners the amount of their loss, and to order them payment from the public treasury.

Resolved, That inquiry ought to be made whether the printing press at Wiliamsburg is public property; and if so, that the governor direct the removal of it to the town of Richmond, that Messrs. Dunlap and Hayes may be availed of its use, until they can more effectually furnish themselves with the means of prosecuting their printing business.

(Journal of the house of delegates . . . October, 1780, p. 49.)

January 18th, 1781.

James Hays to the Governor:

"Sir,

When I informed your Excellency, that I intended for Philadelphia this week, in order to forward the Printing Apparatus for the use of this state, I had not the presence of mind to mention, that a Horse to carry me there, and a Sum of Money would be requisite to purchase paper and other articles absolutely necessary for the public use." * * *

I enclose you an account delivered me by Mr. Dunlop for the hire of three waggons to transport the Printing Materials to Virginia and the amount of dozen [?] Parchment for the use of the Legislature— Mr. Dunlop assures me he engaged the Waggons upon the best terms he could— they are to deliver their loads at Richmond and return to Fredericksburg with any loads the state may furnish from thence they are to come to my House to transport some necessaries for my Family to this place but if the State can furnish them a back load to Philadelphia this part of the engagement may be void— If they are to return by my House the Country should be credited for such proportion of the Waggonage as may be reasonable from Fredericksburg to Philadelphia and charged to me— I have desired Mr. Hays to receive the money for the Waggon hire and parchment and after furnishing the Waggoners what they want transmit the balance to me to settle with them here— I have advanced them thirty pounds of the new money equal to specie at the regulated exchange and also twelve hundred dollars Virga. State paper or they would not move and Mr. Dunlop assured me he could not furnish the money. I am the 2d of July 1782.

In the House of Delegates

Mr. Page reported from the committee appointed to confer with the public printer that the committee had according to order met him and had agreed upon a report and come to several resolutions which were read and agreed to by the House as followeth.

It appears to your committee that a balance of twelve [hundred pounds is due] the said printer from the state for the loss of his printing apparatus which [the] enemy captured near Hampton and the same is included in the estimate of debts due by the commercial agent, and provided for with the other debts of that department by the law for appropriating the public revenue.

That the sum of four hundred and thirty pounds the balance of the said printers account for last year was given in to the last Assembly & not provided for.

That the sum of four hundred pound six shillings is due to the said printer for his services since last account to the present time.

It farther appears to the committee that forty reams of paper has been furnished him by the public leaving a balance of eight hundred and six pounds six shillings still to be provided for exclusive of the above sum of twelve hundred pounds.

It farther appears to the committee that the public have at the Point of Fork a quantity of paper without which or money the said printer will be unable to prosecute his business.

Resolved that the Executive be desired to direct the commerc[ial agent] to furnish the public printer with fifty rheams of the said paper with all possible expedition.

Resolved that the said agent charge for the same the customary price of such paper and no more and deduct the same out of the said printers account against the commonwealth.

To the Honorable the Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates.

The Representation and Petition of John Dunlap and James Hayes, Printers to the Commonwealth

Humbly Sheweth,

That actuated by a sincere desire to expose to the view of the Legislature their whole conduct and endeavours in the discharge of their duty as Public Printers, they beg leave to supplicate your Honorable House for an immediate enquiry into the same before a Committee of the House. In the mean time it is not without confidence in the justice, wisdom and candor of your Honorable House that they beg leave to suggest their hope that all malevolent clamour against them will be utterly disregarded, and that upon a full and fair investigation only, their conduct may be judged of. Without meaning either to impeach the honor or the credit of the State, they humbly remark, that of £ 300 voted them by the last Session of Assembly as absolutely necessary for the immediate procuring of Paper and other necessaries, they have received Thirty Pounds only, added to which, one of their principal workmen whose services had been long withheld by a lingering illness, lately died, another was obliged to leave the State for his health, and others have been also disabled by sickness, the purchase of materials from Philadelphia altogether prevented for the want of money voted them, and their former losses bearing heavy upon them at a time the most difficult of any in which the Public Business has been in their hands. These united circumstances, will, they trust, receive due consideration, and while they tend to obviate all undue censure, will, they doubt not, ultimately induce a continuance of that confidence from the Legislature as their Public Printers, with which your Petitioners have been hitherto honored. And they, as in duty bound, will pray, &c

Urging the payment of his claim on the State for the cost of certain Printing Presses and their Apparatus, which he purchased in the year 1780 at the request of the Delegates in Congress from Virginia, and shipped to Virginia, but which were captured by the Enemy at Hampton on the way to Richmond. The House of Delegates had long since passed Resolutions in favour of his claim, and he now sends Mr. James Dunlap with power of attorney to receive the amount due him. In as much as he has been required to pay full interest upon the obligations entered into with others on this account, he trusts the Executive of Va. will allow him the same in remuneration, &c.

PETITION OF JAMES RIND.

To the Honorable the Speaker and Members of the House of the Representatives of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The petition of James Rind respectfully sheweth,
That in the month of June in the year 1791, before the Revisors had taken up the business for which they had been appointed during the preceding session of Assembly, your petitioner was applied to by them to act as their clerk, that having accepted the offer he proceeded by their direction to make out for each of them a copy of the report of Messeurs Randolph and Prentis made sometime previous thereto to your Honorable House, which copies he presented to them at their first meeting in Williamsburg where he continued to act under their direction during their operations in that place. That on their separation it was determined their next meeting should be had in Fredericksburg.

Your petitioner further sheweth that having taken the sense of those gentlemen of the revision who were within his reach, he thought it an incumbent duty to attend at that place which he did at the time specified. Nothing however was done there and your petitioner then proceeded to Richmond to attend an appointed meeting in November, when it was the hope of the Revisors to make a report of their proceedings to the then session. This however was not accomplished and the Revisors determined on a long meeting in the ensuing Spring in Williamsburg which was had and attended by your petitioner where after very great manuscript labor the first part of the revision laid before this Honorable house was completed. Your petitioner further respectfully sheweth, That under and by the act which contemplated the revision two of the revisors were to have attended to the printing thereof, and to its due correction whilst in the press, but such were their numerous other public avocations that they found it impossible and deputed your petitioner to Richmond for that purpose where he attended the office of the public printer from morning till night for the space of two months during the printing the first part of the revision presented to this Honorable House, in the laborious occupation of corrector and revisor of the press, which it is well known requires the strictest and most unwearied attention. That after this duty was executed your petitioner attended the next and last meeting of the Revisors, in the city of Williamsburg where the second part of the Revision laid before this Honorable House was completed.

Your petitioner further respectfully sheweth that at both these last meetings, by the positive direction of the Revisors, as absolutely necessary to attaining the object of completing the Revision for the inspection of the then next ensuing session of Assembly, he employed an assistant clerk to whom he paid the sum of twenty four pounds 6/. for his services as appeared by the receipt laid before the committee appointed to investigate his claim at a former session. And he further sheweth that on the completion of the second part of the manuscript of the Revision he again by the direction of the revisors attended its correction at the press of the public printer in the city of Richmond.

Your petitioner further respectfully states That for these various services he had conceived himself entitled to the sum of £ 250, which was the determination both of the special committee appointed to investigate the equity of his claim, and also of the committee of claims during the session of 1793, but that he has received only the sum of £ 160. which he respectfully avers did little more than reimburse his many necessary expences, and by no means, as he hopes this Honorable body will think, amounted to compensation for eighteen months important labor.

Your petitioner further respectfully begs leave to observe that in the allowance made him of £ 160. he was not compensated, recollecting the sum paid to the assistant clerk he was constrained by the orders of the Revisors to employ, in proportion to the lowest deputy clerk of any of the public offices, the nature of whose engagements renders them stationary and at a certain board and expenditure, whilst on the contrary he was obliged to heavy travelling expences, attending the Revisors from Williamsburg to Fredericksburg, from Fredericksburg to Richmond, from Richmond to Williamsburg, And twice from Williamsburg to Richmond comprizing a period of three months labor at the press of the public printer a duty distinct from his office as clerk, but for which he hopes this Honorable House will compensate him, in consideration that it was by the direction of the Revisors, who had thought him qualified to execute a trust to which they had been deputed, but which their other business prevented their executing.

Your petitioner therefore respectfully prays a reconsideration of his case, and an equitable decision thereon by this Honorable House, whom he trusts will think him entitled to that additional compensation which only he seeks

JAMES RIND.

Appendix L.

PETITION OF NICOLSON & PRENTIS, 1785.

To the Honble the Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates.

The petition of Thomas Nicolson and William Prentis, humbly sheweth:

That on the 12th day of August 1784, your petitioners agreed with his Excellency Beniamin Harrison, then Governor of Virginia, to print a revisal of the Laws from the Year 1768 to the spring session of the year 1783, agreeable to a resolution of the General Assembly. In consequence of which your petioners [!] purchased a very considerable quantity of paper, and had proceeded on that work as far as the Year 1777, when on the 6th day of January last, the house in which they lived took fire, by which accident the whole of the work which your petitioners had gone through, was totally destroyed, together with a large quantity of the paper which your petitioners had purchased for that purpose.

That on your petitioners representing the matter to His Excellency the Governor and Council, they were pleased to direct your petitioners to renew the work, and purchase paper sufficient to compleat the same, not doubting, but the General Assembly would make an allowance to your petitioners for the work they had gone through, and loss of paper, which unfortunately was burnt.

Your petitioners have accordingly compleated the work, agreeable to the directions of the Judges of the High Court of Chancery, who were appointed by the General Assembly to inspect the same, and who, in order to render it more compleat, directed your petitioners to proceed on the revisal through the fall session of the year 1783, to which period the work has been compleated.

Your petitioners have hereunto annexed an account of their Services, and of the paper destroyed, for the further information of the General Assembly, to which they beg leave to refer, and humbly submit their case to the equitable decision of the Honble General Assembly, for relief. And your petitioners as in duty bound shall ever pray &c.

Estimate of Work executed on Account of the Publick, and Paper which was burnt in Nicolson & Prentis's printing Office on the 6th day of January 1785.

15 Sheets or 60 Pages (1500 Coppies of each Sheet) of the revisal of the Laws at £10 a Sheet.....	£150 " "
90 Reams of Paper purchased for ditto exclusive of what the above was printed upon at 15/	67:10
3 1-2 Sheets in addition to the work directed to be printed by the revisers which included the fall session of 1783 ..... £10	35 " "
	£252:10

Council Chamber, November 7th, 1785.

The Executive agreeable to a resolution of Assembly contracted with Messrs. Nicolson & Prentis for the printing a Revisal of the Laws from the year 1768 to the May Session of 1783. Messrs. Nicolson & Prentis under this Contract engaged in the work & after having made considerable progress therein their Office was unfortunately burnt with a considerable part of the revisal. Messrs. Nicolson & Prentis after this loss, made application to the Executive to be allowed a further time for fulfilling their Contract, which was granted & immediately upon the completion of the work, warrants were issued for the full amount of the balance due Messrs. Nicolson & Prentis, without any allowance being made for the loss or any supposed addition to the work.

Appendix M.

PETITION OF CLARKSON & DAVIS, 1780.

To the Honourable Speaker, and Delegates of the House of Assembly of the State of Virginia.

The Petition of Clarkson & Davis, Printers to the Commonwealth, Humbly Sheweth,

That the nature of your petitioners business requiring that they follow the Government on its removal to Richmond, they have, in consequence of such necessity, used every endeavour to procure themselves a house proper for the exercise of it; but, having failed of success herein, they request the Hon. Assembly to indulge them with a farther space of time for that purpose; doubting not, if the prayer of their petition be granted, that they shall be able to accomodate themselves with such a building, before the next session of Assembly; and if the Hon. House shall be pleased to continue them Public Printers, they flatter themselves their diligence and care in the impression of the Journals, Acts, and other public papers, will recommend them to the notice, and entitle them to the favour of the Hon. Body they now address.

Your petitioners farther beg permission humbly to represent, that the salary last granted them for public services, not having been augmented by the Hon. House, during its last Session, is become, by the Diminution of value in the currency, very inadequate to the purposes for which it was allowed; and that your petitioners have been considerable sufferers by the execution of the Business entrusted to them; the wages of their journeymen alone having amounted to a sum more than equal to the whole of your petitioners salary; they therefore humbly pray, that the Hon. House would be pleased to take this matter into their consideration, and make them such farther compensation for their past services, and fix such a recompence for their future ones, as in their wisdom they shall judge reasonable.

And your petitioners, as in Duty bound, shall ever pray.

(Petitions A 8909, May 12, 1780).

A petition of Messrs. Clarkson & Davis, the public printers, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth that notwithstanding their utmost endeavors, they have not been able to procure a house in the town of Richmond, proper for the exercise of the public printing business under their direction; that the salary heretofore allowed them by the General Assembly, is become very inadequate to the purposes for which it was intended; and praying that farther time may be allowed them to a proper printing house in Richmond, that they may be continued public printers, and their salary increased.

Ordered: That the said petition be referred to the committee of Propositions and Grievances; that they do examine the matter thereof, and report the same, with their opinion thereupon, to the House.

(Journal of the house of delegates, May 12, 1780).

Appendix N.

PETITIONS OF AUGUSTINE DAVIS.

Augustine Davis to the Lieutenant-Governor, Nov. 9th, 1794.

The time designated for the completion of the revised Code of Laws having elapsed, I am necessarily constrained to inform your Honorable Body that the primary cause was a disappointment of a supply of paper from England last spring; the vessel having put into Guadaloupe thro' some unaccountable cause, in which 128 Reams were shipped & the paper totally loss, at least nothing since ever heard of it.

To obviate which difficulty, and no other chance existing of a further supply from that quarter until the arrival of the fall vessels, I immediately sent to Philadelphia for 100 Reams, but there being none of that size and quality then to be had there, impeded the progress of the work till the paper could be got ready, which was not effected till four or five weeks after the stipulated time, and with this supply I have with unremitting assiduity prosecuted the business, and had not the sickness of my workmen operated as a second cause, the work would have been accomplished by this time. Permit me to assure your Honorable Board that no exertions have been or shall be wanting on my part to the accomplishment of the undertaking, and to add that I hope to lay the publication before your Honorable Board in a few weeks; that not being now more than four or five Laws and the Index wanting to complete the whole.

Mr. Fenwick has handed me his account for the paper imported, which I herewith enclose to your Honorable Board, together with his importunate Letter to me yesterday for immediate payment of the balance, which, agreeably to our contract, he has a right to expect. I therefore flatter myself that your Honorable Board will take the same into your immediate consideration, and make such provision for the payment of the balance agreeably to the account Noted as the necessity of the occasion requires.

I have, &c.,

Augustine Davis.

(Calendar State papers, v. 7, p. 366).

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia:

The Petition of Augustine Davis, humbly sheweth: That your petitioner hath been informed, and believes, that the increase of the number of Justices since the Edition of the Revised Code, as well as the daily call, where new Justices are appointed, renders it expedient, that a further supply of Laws should be provided:—That your Petitioner has lately published an Abridgment of the public and permanent Laws of the Commonwealth, including those passed at the Session of Assembly commencing the year 1796—that they are reduced under obvious and general heads; so that with the help of a small index annexed to the Book, the whole of the Virginia Law, appertaining to any subject, may be readily found.

Your petitioner therefore begs leave to offer such number of copies, as may be required by the Assembly for public use, at the subscription price; and prays your Honorable Body to take his Proposal into consideration.

Appendix O.

PETITION OF J. & J. D. WESTCOTT.

To the Legislature of Virginia,

The Memorial of J. & J. D. Westcott,

Respectfully sheweth,

That your memorialists have commenced the printing of a compilation of such laws of a general and permanent nature as have been passed by the Legislature of Virginia, from the year 1736 to the year 1801. The work will be prepared for the press and corrected by a gentleman of unquestionably the first legal abilities, and who will be responsible for its accuracy.

Your memorialists have been induced to embark in this undertaking from a conviction of the public utility and obvious necessity of such a publication; from the consideration that the edition of the revised code, printed in 1794, is now so scarce that a copy cannot be procured by magistrates and others whose situation renders it necessary for them to have it in possession; and from the suggestions of a number of respectable characters, that an undertaking of so important a nature, and of such general usefulness, would undoubtedly receive legislative aid.

Your memorialists, therefore, with due deference, submit to your inspection a specimen of the work, and pray for such legislative assistance, either by subscription for a specific number of copies, or otherwise, as your honorable body may think proper.

(Petitions, Dec. 8, 1800, unnumbered).

Included with the petition are sample pages 9-16. It is not known that this compilation was finished.

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO JOHN DIXON, SR.

To the Honourable the Speaker and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

The Petition of John Dixon; humbly sheweth,

That in the month of January last when the Enemy came to Richmond they destroyed your petitioner's books and papers amongst which was a Loan Office certificate for six hundred and forty pounds signed by George Webb Treasurer, numbered 803 and Dated August 27, 1779.

Your Petitioner therefore humbly begs that this Honourable house will be kind enough to direct the Treasurer to issue another certificate of equal value with the one that was burnt.

And your Petitioner as in duty bound will pray.

(Petitions A 8924, Nov. 30, 1781)

J. Dixon, Public Printer, to the Governor.

Richmond, May 21st, 1787.

Sir:

I will have 1500 Copies of the Act to repeal the Act for incorporating the Protestant Episcopal Church, and for other purposes, printed immediately and distributed as your honorable board have directed. The sheet which contained that Act was composed in Mr. Davis' office, examined by Mr. Beckley, and worked off at our Press. From this information the Executive will know how to determine.

I am, most respectfully, Sir,

Your most obed't Serv't.

(Calendar State papers, v. 4, p. 289).

John Dixon, Sr., died about April 27, 1791. His son John Dixon, Jr., acted as public printer from April 27, 1791 to May 14, 1791, the date of the appointment of Augustine Davis. (See council journal, July 7, 1791). John Dixon, Jr., died May 22, 1805. (See Enquirer, May 24, 1805). Thomas Nicolson, who had been at one time in partnership with John Dixon, Sr., died Nov. 10, 1808. (See Enquirer, Nov. 18, 1808).

Appendix R.

PETITIONS OF SAMUEL PLEASANTS.

To the Honorable the Legislature of Virginia.

The petition of Samuel Pleasants, jun. and Henry Pace, both printers in Richmond, Respectfully sheweth,

That your petitioners have proposed to undertake, at a very considerable expence, the Republication of the Revised Code of the Laws of this State; with numerous and interesting improvements, and containing the same down to the end of the present session of the Assembly.

That they have proposed to commence this publication under an impression of the very general utility which must result from its accomplishment; that, agreeable to their information, many applications have been made by magistrates of the Commonwealth, for copies of the work, as essentially requisite for enabling them to execute their duty.

Under these circumstances, the memorialists do respectfully submit to the wisdom of the Legislature, whether it would be inconsistent with their feelings of propriety to encourage and patronize a work of this public nature, by subscribing, as has occurred in similar instances, for such a number of copies of the proposed publication, as to the honorable the Legislature shall, in their wisdom, seem proper; in order to alleviate the very heavy risk and expence which the memorialists must incur in prosecuting a work of so much concern to the Commonwealth at large; and if the undertaking is regarded as meriting their support, that they will deliberate on a mode of giving it such a legislative sanction, as shall render it a work of admitted authority in the Courts of Justice. And your Petitioners, &c.

(Petitions, no. A 9113, Dec. 19, 1801).

See chap. 15, passed Jan. 26, 1802, Acts of 1801-02.

To the Honorable Legislature of Virginia.

Samuel Pleasants jr. of the city of Richmond, represents, That he hath, at very considerable expense, prepared a second volume, or continuation of the Revised Code of Laws, which will contain not only all the Public Acts of the General Assembly passed since the session of 1801, but various other laws of a general nature which had heretofore been omitted, together with a collection of such other Statutes as were deemed important to be inserted in a compilation of this kind. . . . In order to give authenticity to the work, he prays, that, upon the certificate of such gentlemen as the Legislature may think proper to appoint, it may have the same weight, as evidence of the law of the State, as is given to the other statute books printed under the authority of the Commonwealth.

Should it be the pleasure of the Legislature to direct that any number of copies should be subscribed for, on behalf of the state, it will be in his power to be very accommodating both in the price and payment, . . . no money would be required from the public treasury until the expiration of twelve months from the time of the delivery of the books.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Sam Pleasants jr.

(Petitions no. A 9145, Dec. 17, 1806).

There is a petition of Deborah Pleasants asking that she may serve as public printer until the end of the year for which her husband, Samuel Pleasants, was elected. See House journal, Oct. 13, 1814. The death of Samuel Pleasants is announced in the Enquirer of Oct. 5, 1814.

PURCHASE OF PRINTING MATERIALS FROM BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

Richmond 26th November 1789

Sir,

About three years ago, I had the Honor to apply to the Governor and Council, on behalf of Doctor Franklin, for payment of printing Tipes, Presses, and other Materials supplied the State by his Attorney, during the War. I was then directed by the late Governor, to desire the Doctor to put a Value on them, as the Council was satisfied the Goods had been received for the Public use.

I have now the Honor of transmitting to your Excellency a Letter from the Doctor on that Subject: His long ill health has been the Occasion of the delay; and I am persuaded the very moderate Aspect of this Claim, the long time that has elapsed since the Goods were furnished, and the known Candour of the Claimant, will induce the Honorable Council to do him Justice, without longer delay.

I have ventured on the blank leaf of the Doctor's Letter to state the view in which the Claim strikes me; this is merely to place the Subject of deliberation before the Honorable Board, if I have erred in this, it is unknown to Doctor Franklin.

I am with great respect
Your Excellency's
Most Ob: Hb: Sert.

W: Alexander

Sir,

Soon after the dissolution of the partnership between Purdie and myself, I was informed he had got a parcel of Printing materials from Philadelphia, but did not know what they consisted of until about two years and half ago; Doctor Franklin informed me they belonged to him, and were sent to Virginia by Mr. Bache, at the request of Mr. Henry who was Governor of this State at that time; I know nothing about the value of them.

I am, Sir, Yr &c
